Keeping your business moving

Transport is your business. Whatever it is you transport, the important thing is getting it safely and punctually to its destination. And you can rely on MAN to do just that, every time. Despite heavy loads, your MAN will carry your cargo reliably on the road, keeping your business on course. But over the long term, increasing mileage places increasing demands on the individual parts of the vehicle.

MAN recommends: stay on the safe side and use only new parts.

MAN offers you a comprehensive range of axle, longitudinal and transverse control arms at attractive prices. In addition, you can be sure you are getting a part that is a perfect fit for your vehicle and tonnage, made of high-quality material and with the specified wall thickness. Don't take any risks - always use MAN genuine axle, longitudinal and transverse control arms.
